Archetypal Assessment and Analysis

Archetypes are representations of the deep structures in our psyches that channel our life forces. Examination of mythic images from disparate cultures all over the world reveals a common subset of mythic images. The Depth Psychology of Dr. Carl Jung infers that these images emanate from Collective Unconscious, those parts of the psyche that all people share, and thus reveal the fundamental structure of the human psyche. In the Neo-Jungian Psychology of Dr. Robert L. Moore, the chief archetypes of the male psyche are King, Warrior, Magician, and Lover. Exploring and understanding how these archetypal energies are showing up in our lives can help us to use our life forces to our optimal benefit.

Would you like to have better understanding of your archetypal configuration? Would you like to be better able to use your life forces to live your life's dream? Rob Johnson is offering a comprehensive menu of services to help you gain this understanding.

These services start with an individual evaluation and development of a family diagram. Next you will be offered a variety of assessments of such things as your personality traits, career interests, and psychological profile. Based on the information gathered, Rob will work with you to develop an assessment of your archetypal strengths and shadows, and to examine the impact these have on you, your family and your career. Together, you will develop plans to access your archetypal potentials. From there, you may continue the work on your own. Alternatively, you may wish to work individually with Rob or join a group led by him with other men who are also working on their archetypal goals.
